

Unsafe Touches: Unsafe touches are the parts covered by swimming suits, or touches to other people's swimming suit areas. No one should touch you there.

Shout, Run & Tell: If anyone ever makes us feel uncomfortable or unsafe by coming into our personal space we have to Shout, Run and Tell. Shout at them to stop, run away, and tell a grown-up.

It Doesn't Matter Who it is: If anyone ever tries to touch us on a private part of our bodies, they are not safe friends, and they aren't trusted grown-ups.

Stranger Safety: We don't talk to strangers without a safe adult's permission. We don't accept food or gifts from strangers without a safe adult's permission. We never go anywhere with strangers.

Hitting is wrong: This rule reminds us that kids should never get touches that hurt.
